Live demo in 30 minutes · Cuts over from any HRIS in a day ·
Founders respond within 24 hours

One human approves the calls that matter.

- Better way to phrase this? Its lowkey confusing- like the wording of it

Cutover from any HRIS in a Day ;

- “Cuts over” Fix wording maybe? (maybe this is HR term or SEO but confusing)
- “Live demo in 30 minutes · Switch from any HRIS within 1 day · Founders respond within 24 hours” this one has #s in each specific and more confident

From kickoff to autopilot in a week.

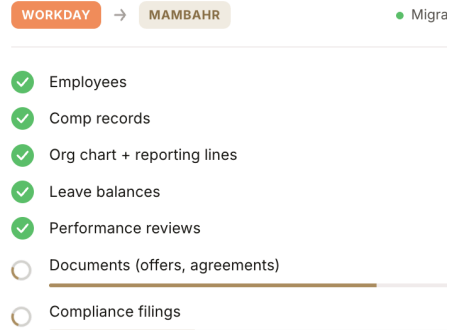

One day to migrate. One screen to set policy. After that, the agent runs your HR department.

STEP 01 · ~1 DAY

Migrate from your old HRIS.

Move off Gusto, Workday, Rippling, BambooHR, Namely, Personio — whatever you have. We pull employees, comp records, org chart, leave balances, performance history, and documents. One click. Zero data loss.

Most teams cut over end-of-day Friday. Live Monday morning.

From kickoff to autopilot in a week

- Change to “one week” maybe underline it

Fix bold?

Most teams cut over end-of-day Friday. Live Monday morning.

High-risk actions stay always-human. → always stay human?

Your CHRO does judgment. Everything else does itself.

14 “specialists”- “Time off Agent”

Question- are we using specialist or agent or specialist agent lol or they are interchangeable? Maybe keep it consistent ?
